

BLOOMING IN THE DESERT
Union home minister Amit Shah and Rajasthan CM Bhajan Lal Sharma leading a road show in Sikar, Mar. 31

a third term, his persona looms large, with votes being actively solicited under the banner of his leadership and for an emphatic mandate. While Union home minister Amit Shah has masterminded the overarching strategy and candidate selection, it is Chief Minister Bhajan Lal Sharma who is spearheading the on-ground offensive. In just about a month, he has led 60-odd rallies and road shows, his itinerary punctuated by visits to sacred shrines. Alongside the CM, deputy chief minister Diya Kumari is an indefatigable presence, attending two to three election events daily.

The party's core messaging centres around the construction of the Ram temple in Ayodhya, the abrogation of Article 370 in Jammu & Kashmir, national security imperatives, allegations of corruption against the previous Ashok Gehlot-led Congress regime, and Modi's development agenda. A