

Mahakumbh 2025

REDIFINING DEVOTION AND GRANDEUR

A record-breaking turnout of over 40 crore devotees is expected at Prayagraj Mahakumbh 2025, surpassing the 25 crore devotees who attended the 2019 Kumbh.

This Mahakumbh will span an expansive 4000 hectares, a significant increase compared to 2019.

The traditional term "Shahi Snan" has been renamed "Kumbh Amrit Snan," aligning with India's ancient cultural heritage.

Seven toll plazas leading to Prayagraj will be tax-free during the Mahakumbh, with no tolls charged from January 13 to February 26.

For Prayagraj Mahakumbh 2025, the tent accommodations for tourists and devotees have been significantly expanded, with arrangements made for 1.6 lakh tents.

For the first time, a dome city is being constructed 18 feet above ground in Arail, allowing tourists to view the Mahakumbh from above.

A “Bhishma Cube,” capable of providing medical treatment to 200 people simultaneously, will be deployed in the Mela area for the first time.

Google navigation will guide devotees to ghats, akharas, and camps, making navigation within the fair area seamless.

A showcase of India's rich artisanal heritage will bring together the top 100 handicrafts from across the country, featuring treasures like Banarasi sarees and iconic South Indian artifacts.

NEW BENCHMARKS TO BE SET

Handprints of 10,000 participants will be taken within 8 hours, creating a unique record.

A parade of 1000 e-rickshaws will spread the message of a 'Green Mahakumbh.'

15,000 volunteers will simultaneously clean 10 km of ghats, ensuring pristine riverbanks.

A coordinated river cleaning effort will see 300 individuals working together at one time.
