

in private practice. Reflecting on this decision, he says, "Leaving my position was not easy, but the desire to create a healthcare system free from red tape and inefficiencies was stronger."

HARTEJ HOSPITAL: A PILLAR OF EXCELLENCE

Hartej Hospital has evolved into one of the leading healthcare institutions in Punjab, offering a wide range of specialties, including gynecology, oncology, orthopedics, neurosurgery, ENT, plastic surgery, and laparoscopic surgery. Equipped with state-of-the-art technology, the hospital is staffed by a team of highly qualified professionals dedicated to providing personalized care.

"Our aim has always been to democratize access to advanced medical care, ensuring it's within reach of every segment of society," says Dr Nagpal. This ethos is reflected in the hospital's alignment with various insurance providers, making high-quality treatment accessible to a broader population.

The hospital's commitment to excellence extends beyond patient care to fostering a culture of learning. Dr Nagpal regularly organizes seminars, workshops, and conferences, sharing his expertise with peers and aspiring medical professionals. "Sharing knowledge is vital in medicine. It's how we grow, innovate, and ultimately save more lives," he asserts.

Dr. Nagpal's vision of holistic healthcare also involves integrating modern medical advancements. He envisions introducing robotic surgery at Hartej Hospital, aiming to bring cutting-edge technology to Punjab. "Robotic surgery represents the next frontier in healthcare, and I am committed to making this a reality for our community," he states.

WISDOM AND LEADERSHIP

Dr Nagpal's contributions to the medical field extend beyond the walls of Hartej Hospital. Recently, being the President of ASI (Association of Surgeons of India) Punjab Chapter, Dr Nagpal organised a unique event called Punsurgicon - aimed at nurturing and providing a platform to young surgeons to showcase what the next generation is capable of. One of its kind events, it was attended by over 300 surgeons. A firm believer in lifelong learning, he attends national and international medical conferences and shares his insights with colleagues and young doctors. His advice to emerging medical professionals is both practical and inspiring: "Hard work and experience are irreplaceable. Fame achieved through shortcuts is fleeting; true success is built over time."

Beyond his professional achievements, Dr Nagpal is a strong advocate for a balanced lifestyle. He practices daily meditation, emphasizes simplicity, and encourages regular exercise as keys to maintaining physical and mental well-being. At home, he finds joy in his family, including his wife, children, and grandchildren, all of whom contribute to the success of Hartej Hospital.

For Dr. Nagpal, the greatest reward lies in the gratitude of his patients. "Money may give you temporary pleasure, but the best reward is when someone comes back years later just to say 'thank you' for saving their life," he reflects.

"As a doctor, it's not just about treating illnesses; it's about touching lives and making a difference," he adds. Dr Nagpal's journey inspires both the medical fraternity and the community he serves, leaving an indelible mark on the landscape of healthcare in Punjab.
