Pugdundee Safaris

For walking and mobile safaris in Madhya Pradesh

Navigating through national parks by jeep is a common experience. But what if you get to dive into the wilderness of the jungle on foot? That's what Pugdundee Safaris specialises in. These walking and mobile safaris through the Satpura Tiger Reserve led by trained naturalists offer an adrenaline-packed adventure, taking you through thick jungles, rugged hills, and tribal villages. The experience is as rustic as it can get—there is no electricity in campsites and the tents are basic. The food is homestyle, prepared by local cooks. The experience, which runs from November to March, is limited to 10 guests per batch. One must be of moderate fitness level to be a part of these safaris.
