Village Ways

For walking holidays in the Himalaya

If walking through lesser-known villages in Uttarakhand intrigues you, sign up for an experience with Village Ways. These 'gentle walking holidays', co-founder Manisha Pande says, are nothing like treks. Instead, they offer an opportunity for travellers to immerse themselves in rural environments. A local guide—well-trained in the region's flora, fauna and language—leads each walk. Besides, guests are hosted in community-owned homestays for a sneak peek into the life of the locals. Village Ways also curates leisure holidays in the villages of Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Kerala and Chhattisgarh. These experiences pack in a mix of walking, sightseeing, interactions with local communities, and also time to rest and unwind.
