PARESH MEHTA

Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale her infinite variety," William Shakespeare wrote of Cleopatra in Anthony and Cleopatra. It holds true of Amitabh Bachchan too, who turned 80 last October. Bachchan had five releases in 2022, including one of the year's most successful Hindi films in Brahmastra Part One: Shiva, which grossed Rs 230 crore. That Bachchan inspires a new generation of filmmakers to write parts for him speaks volumes of his artistry. He is in a league of his own and it showed in the MOTN survey of the top actor in the country. Akshay Kumar was a distant second in a forgettable year for him, in which he acted in a string of subpar films. Closely following him was Shah Rukh Khan, who makes a comeback after four years and will have three releases this year, beginning with Pathaan. The Yash Raj production made headlines after its song
