AVENGED SEVENFOLD

The pop stars may take all the headlines, but India is increasingly becoming a touring pitstop for big metal bands as well. After British prog-metallers Tesseract and American metal band Animals As Leaders, now it's the turn of another American metal act Avenged Sevenfold—one of the headliners for BookMyShow's Bandland 2024 in Bengaluru on November 23 and 24.

EXTREME

For music fans of a certain vintage, Extreme needs no introduction. The Boston band—founded in 1985—was one of the most successful rock acts of the 1990s, selling over 10 million records worldwide. Since reuniting in 2015—their second reunion after a short-lived one in the 2000s—the band has released two compilation albums and toured all over the world, and dropped their sixth studio album last year. Catch them play at Bandland 2024 in Bengaluru (Nov. 23-24).

MUSIC

WE WILL ROCK YOU

India's winter concert season is looking great, with leading international stars and bands set to captivate audiences

BONEY M

This one's for the disco fanatics. Boney M, the group behind such classics as 'Rasputin', 'Ma Baker' and 'Daddy Cool' will be headlining the Cherry Blossom festival in Shillong this November. As with many Boney M tours in recent years, this lineup only features one founding member, model-turned-vocalist Maizie Williams.

BRYAN ADAMS

A common joke among Indian music fans is that Byran Adams is the reverse Akshay Kumar. He may be a Canadian, but he's performed in India so many times—and has so many fans here—that he might as well be an honorary Indian. Adams returns to India this December for a six-city tour hitting Kolkata, Shillong, Gurugram, Mumbai, Bengaluru and Hyderabad.

NICK CARTER

Last year, Backstreet Boys performed two sold-out shows in India. Nick Carter loved the experience so much he's coming back, this time as a solo act. The one-time pop heart-throb will perform in Mumbai on Valentine's Day, as part of his Who I Am world tour.

ENIGMA

German new age/world-beat act Enigma was inescapable in the 1990s due to its signature blend of ambient dance music with Gregorian chants, tribal rhythms and rock samples. Romanian-German musician and producer Michael Cretu—who performs as Enigma—will make his India live debut in Bengaluru on October 5, accompanied by three of the singers who voiced many of his biggest hits.

CIGARETTES AFTER SEX

One of the most sought-after international headliners of Lollapalooza 2023, Cigarettes After Sex return to India for a three-city tour in January. The American indie-pop band will perform in Delhi, Mumbai and Bengaluru as part of a world tour behind X's, their recently released third album. Expect lots of lush melodies, intimately personal lyricism and wistful nostalgia.
