COVER STORY

HOW INDIA CAN BECOME A GLOBAL GIANT

Where must India be in 2047? As we approach our century of Independence, our sights must be set on a lofty peak: this time, to be a fully developed nation that has attained freedom from want and indignity. An economic and technological leader seen with respect by the outside world, as a truly global giant and a force for good. From where we are now, that calls for a compass, including a moral one. In the following pages, thought leaders present a blueprint in 10 key sectors:

1. Economy 2. Infrastructure 3. Industry
4. Education 5. Technology 6. Defence 7. Health
8. Agriculture 9. Energy 10. Soft Power

Illustration by NILANJAN DAS