Q+A

Power Dresser

Designer GAURAV GUPTA, a favourite of Hollywood celebrities, is in the news for actress Mindy Kaling's dress at the Met Gala 2024

Q. Mariah Carey, Nicki Minaj, Beyoncé, and now Mindy Kaling—what's making label Gaurav Gupta the talk of the town among Hollywood celebs?

I think they appreciate the avant garde approach and innovative flair that our designs bring. With sculptural silhouettes, intricate draping and meticulous detailing, our designs challenge conventional notions, turning each garment into a work of art.

Q. How long does it take to make these custom gowns?

Crafting custom gowns is a meticulous process that varies depending on the complexity of the design. Typically, it takes several weeks to months to bring these creations to life, ensuring each detail is perfected to match the client's vision.

Q. You have a penchant for the unconventional, which shows in your designs...

I've always been drawn to the unconventional in both life and design. Breaking away from the norm allows me to explore new realms of creativity. My personal style is an extension of my design philosophy—bold, experimental and unapologetically individualistic.

Q. Tell us about some projects in the pipeline.

Well, we're gearing up for our fourth Paris Couture Show on June 27. Stay tuned for the magic!
