

Unbottling Happiness

What brings you happiness in life? Is it savouring a hot cup of coffee while reading a book on a cold winter morning, or dedicating time to catch up with friends? Happiness, with its diverse meanings truly comes alive through the joy of sharing. Life's journey becomes richer as we share joy while creating lasting memories extending beyond personal experiences.

'Happiness in a Bottle' is set to increase the Happiness quotient for connoisseurs and consumers alike, promising a blissful blend carefully crafted to bring together the best mood-enhancing ingredients. The flora-infused elixir promises the 'Joy of Sharing' in abundance in Radico Khaitan's latest creation. With the launch of 'Happiness in a Bottle' the company has further expanded its premium product portfolio. This captivating elixir transcends the conventional while still embracing the essence of nature. This exquisite spirit, crafted with an array of botanical wonders, is a celebration of the plant kingdom's diverse flavours and aromas. Each drop takes one on a journey into the world of bliss, where herbs, spices and botanicals unite to create a harmonious bouquet of flavours. From juniper berries to pepper, citrus peels to angelica root, the spectrum of botanicals in this spirit is as diverse as the ecosystems from which they are sourced.

Aiming to make celebrations more memorable and adding that subtle touch of sophistication, 'Happiness in a Bottle' comes in three enchanting expressions. Providing a truly gratifying experience, Joy of Juniper, Joy of Pink, and Joy of Citrus offer sensational flavours leaving one yearning for more. Curated using nearly 15 botanicals, each of the three variants comes packaged in a first-of-its-kind glass bottle with a unique design. Radiating light like a diamond, the reflective crystal of the bottle shines in a dark setting transporting one to the world of stars. This unique offering comes wrapped in bright happy colours to evoke happiness in consumers. One of the distinguishing features of this botanical elixir is its aromatic complexity. As the spirit breathes, the fragrant notes of the botanicals unfold, releasing a bouquet of scents that transport the drinker to a verdant garden or a sun-kissed citrus grove. From the earthy undertones of roots to the bright, zesty top notes of citrus, each breath is a sensorial journey through the botanical realm.

The Goodness of Ashwagandha

The one key ingredient that stands out in all the exquisitely handcrafted variants is the unique herb, ashwagandha. An adaptogenic herb, ashwagandha has a long history in traditional ayurvedic medicine. It is known for its potential stress-reducing and rejuvenating properties. With consumers seeking innovative beverage options, these ashwagandha-infused spirits packed with delightful botanical flavours are truly 'Happiness in a Bottle'. With every sip, it unleashes moments of sheer joy. Their texture embraces the palate like a soft blissful breeze, leaving a harmonious tingle that whispers happiness.