All figures in % and rounded off

Asked a direct question on whether the Modi government has reduced corruption in India, 46.2 per cent reply in the affirmative, but an equally strong 46.9 per cent deem otherwise.

Then again, while almost 50 per cent applaud the NDA government's handling of the economy, only a third say their economic status has improved since Modi came to power in 2014; a substantial 63 per cent maintain their status has been either the same or deteriorated. This figure has been above 60 per cent for the sixth consecutive MOTN in NDA's second term. To another question on daily expenses compared to last year, 61 per cent say their current expenses have become difficult to manage. This is again something that has been high for five straight MOTNs. Sixty-six per cent of the respondents also believe their incomes will either be stagnant or decline. More than 70 per cent consider the unemployment situation to be serious—a feeling consistent across six MOTNs. A
