Note: All respondents across all states were asked to rate the performance of the 30 chief ministers in India. The ratings are the perception of all respondents across India. So, 46.3% of the 35,801 respondents in the current MOTN survey rated Yogi Adityanath as India's No. 1 CM

ond position among the most popular CMs within their home states, a jump of five positions. Apart from Tripura's Manik Saha, he is the only CM whose approval ratings have surged significantly within the home state.

Beating anti-incumbency election after election, Odisha chief minister Naveen Patnaik seems to have carved a permanent place in the pantheon of most popular CMs within the home state—topping the ranking for the seventh time in a row. With the state heading to polls in a couple of months, that's an unparalleled achievement that could very well translate into a record-breaking sixth term for the 77-year-old CM. A cause for worry is the significant drop in approval ratings—from 61.3 per cent in August 2023 to 52.7 per cent now.

After Patnaik, the next six positions in terms of popularity on the home turf are occupied by BJP chief ministers, all with approval ratings above 40 per cent. Compared to that, non-BJP CMs have been consistently slipping in public perception. Kejriwal, for instance, has the backing of 36.5 per cent of the respondents from Delhi, a big slide from 57.7 per cent in August 2023. ■
