

SKODA NAMES ITS COMPACT SUV

Skoda Auto India has named its upcoming compact SUV as the Kylaq. Slated to be launched in the first half of 2025, it will be the Czech automobile manufacturer's first foray into the compact SUV segment in India. This SUV is based on the MQB-A0-IN platform, which also underpins the Kushaq mid-size SUV and the Slavia mid-size sedan. We expect the Skoda Kylaq price to be between Rs 8 lakh and Rs 15 lakh (ex-showroom).

A Greener EV App Environment

JSW MG Motor India launched several electric vehicle-based innovations at the DriEV.Bharat event held in New Delhi. The event included the launch of eHUB, an app with charging solutions; Project REVIVE, focused on repurposing EV batteries beyond cars; EVPEDIA, India's first dedicated educational and knowledge platform for electric car users; and the MG-Jio 'Innovative Connectivity Platform' (MG-Jio ICP), which will be standard in all upcoming MG vehicles beginning with the upcoming Windsor EV.

The eHUB app aims to be a one-stop solution for EV charging in India, for which the company has tied up with charging networks from Adani Total Energies Limited, BPCL, Chargezone, Glida, HPCL, Jio-BP, Shell, Statiq and Zeon among others. It is available in 11 languages and is equipped with trip-planning features as well. Through strategic partnerships with industry players and initiatives like the MGDP and MG Nurture, JSW MG Motor has engaged with over 1,500 startups and collaborated with more than 50 colleges to drive EV education and skill development.

A UNIQUE EXPERIENCE

Called 'The First Chapter: An Exhilarating Expedition to Ladakh', the inaugural Volkswagen Experiences (VWe) drive was flagged off from Chandigarh with customers and fans of the brand at the wheel of cars like the Virtus, Taigun and the Tiguan. With VWe, the German brand aims to engage with customers and fans through curated drives to destinations like Ladakh, offering them a chance to experience the wide range of capabilities of their cars. The route takes them from Chandigarh to Manali to Jispa, finally ending in Leh.

Customers from all over India are part of the journey that comprises a convoy of over 25 Volkswagen cars. Volkswagen India has curated a host of activities along the way including indulging in local cuisines, outdoor survival training sessions and more.

Ashish Gupta, Brand Director, Volkswagen Passenger Cars India, said, "With VWe, we have introduced the much awaited customer engagement programme that brings the ethos of togetherness through various curated experiences. As we flag off the first chapter from Chandigarh, we look forward to customers having a superlative experience of owning and driving a Volkswagen. Driving steadily across different terrains while keeping the occupants safe is providing our customers peace of mind."
