LOKAKALP FOUNDATION:
AN INSPIRED INITIATIVE BY LOKMANYA GROUP

Social movements are invariably inspired by a strong social cause and are singularly focussed on fulfilling the same. Post Independence India saw many a social movement that tried to bring about positive change in society. The co-operative movement emerged as one of the most significant among these. It became instrumental in transforming the lives of the common citizens, especially through economic development. Trust and transparency, the key elements on which the co-operative movement stood, have led to some magnificent outcomes.

One such outcome is the Lokmanya Multipurpose Co-operative Society. Popularly known as the Lokmanya Society, it was started by the common people, for the common people, out of sheer social commitment. In a brief period of 28 years, the organization has won the trust of the masses with its reliable and transparent services.

Lokmanya Multi-purpose Co-operative Society was incepted on 31st August 1995, by Founder Chairman Hon. Shri Kiran Thakur to support the youth to get employment and to further create employment for others by becoming entrepreneurs themselves. His intent has manifested into a powerful initiative today. Lokmanya Society has expanded its presence across Maharashtra, Karnataka, Delhi and Goa. With a network of 213 branches, it has clocked a whopping Rs. 7700 crores in deposits and serves more than 1 million satisfied customers.

It offers a plethora of services and facilities including loans, deposits, insurance, mutual funds, forex, lockers and a digital platform for quick, convenient access. Senior citizens are offered special financial services. That's not all! Lokmanya Society is the first to launch the unique concept of Lounge Experience in the co-operative sector!

While helping masses accomplish their financial ambitions, Lokmanya Society also extends financial co-operation to industrial enterprises. Going a step ahead, it also adds value to society through active presence in diverse fields such as education, health care, hospitality, construction and infrastructure facilities.

Every social project/initiative, thought, decision and action at Lokmanya Society centres around 'people'. It strives to enhance the lives of grass root citizens by empowering them to become financially independent, rendering educational platforms, and making accessible technology driven healthcare services. Lokakalp Foundation is a noteworthy medium towards this goal.

Lokakalp Foundation has made a mark with initiatives in village development, environment conservation, plantation, education, general healthcare as well as women's healthcare, and capacity building. The Foundation has adopted 32 villages in the Kankumbi-Jamboti area near Karnataka-Goa border. It endeavours to make the villagers financially independent through micro-finance and women's self-help groups. Besides bringing about financial literacy, Lokakalp Foundation trains women in self-help groups to produce and market quality products.

These women produce organic turmeric and honey on a large scale. Crops like organic rice, cashews and pearl millet have a rising demand too. Small scale and cottage industry in these crops have become a sustainable source of income for the villagers. Lokmanya Group has supported more than 150 women in the rural suburbs of Pune by providing them micro-finance through self-help groups.

Lokmanya Group has started primary, secondary and higher secondary schools in rural areas. It also offers financial assistance for higher studies. Students in the 10th and 12th class are offered guidance to prepare for examinations and also for personality development. Graduates are given vocational training and guidance for general employment as well as for recruitment in the armed forces. Needy students can avail of library and study facilities run by the Foundation.

Healthcare camps for eye check-up, blood donation, osteoporosis and general check-up are regularly organized.

Initiatives like these are necessary for elevating the well-being of the masses. We feel proud and privileged to give back to society through our social projects and aspire to continue doing our bit in the future.
