SUSTAINABLE GROWTH AND WOMEN EMPOWERMENT

Modi Enterprises - KK Modi Group, under the visionary leadership of Dr. Bina Modi, is committed to weaving sustainability into the fabric of its operations, viewing it as a collective endeavour. Dr. Modi's focus on responsible business extends to creating positive impacts on both people and the planet. For Godfrey Phillips India (GPI), sustainability and responsible business practices have long been a focus. The recent formalization of these efforts is evident in GPI's first Business Responsibility and Sustainability Report, outlining ambitious Environment, Social and Governance (ESG) targets for the company. On the environmental front, GPI aims for carbon neutrality, reduced water usage, renewable energy adoption, and zero waste by 2030.

Turning attention to societal impact, GPI's CSR program for women tobacco graders in Ongole, Andhra, addressed the needs of minimum-wage earners from marginalized communities. The program enhanced work-life conditions through initiatives ranging from building toilets and installing ROs for safe drinking water to health camps, protective gear provision, creating lunch and recreation areas, offering scholarships, and organizing awareness camps. The commitment extends to providing safe drinking water through RO water plants for the entire farmer community. Rigorous efforts combat child labour, with after-school programs and scholarships ensuring children remain engaged in education and are empowered to ask for a better and brighter future. An ambitious target of planting 1.25 lakh trees promotes biodiversity and improves the environment in a rain shadow area with poor land quality in Andhra Pradesh.

Simultaneously, Indofil's 'Project Khushi' champions the education and vocational aspirations of hundreds of rural girls annually through financial grants. Dr. Bina Modi's emphasis on social equity extends to in-house employees, with a focus on equal opportunities, increased upskilling, and learning and development initiatives. The commitment to fostering an inclusive workplace is exemplified by several Modi Group companies earning the prestigious Great Place to Work certification for multiple years, with the ongoing goal of maintaining this status.
