academic establishments, with the aim of producing high-quality manpower that meets the needs of both industry and academia.

A MULTIFACETED PERSONALITY

Beyond her role as a thought leader, Aradhana's multifaceted personality shines through. An avid reader with diverse interests and a strong belief in the benefits of sports for physical and mental well-being, she embodies a holistic approach to life. According to Aradhana, her family played a pivotal role in inculcating the right values which laid a strong foundation for the future accomplishments. She leveraged those values further through her intellect, vision and perseverance. Aradhana played a lot of indoor and outdoor games during her college days. She has been an enthusiastic sportsperson and active participant since her school days.

She is successful in striking a perfect balance in whatever interest she pursues. She emphasizes upon setting a definite timeframe for the task to be accomplished and strict adherence to it definitely helps an individual to remain disciplined in his or her approach. It's always the small consistencies which contribute towards life. Aradhana Galgotia stands as a symbol of a new generation thought leader—visionary, compassionate, and dedicated to steering educational institutions towards a future of unparalleled excellence.

> Pursuing her MBA from the prestigious University of Cambridge, UK, Aradhana Galgotia has a strong appetite for acquiring knowledge on the wide-ranging topics. Her long stint at UK gave her enough international exposure as well as a global perspective on the higher education and the professional word.

NEW INDIA DEBATE: EXPLORING THE VISION WITH ARADHANA GALGOTIA

- Tell us a little bit about how you see these debates happening, what do you have to say about it?
  I think it is a great initiative, New India Debates is a great initiative taken by New India Junction. We completely support our Prime Minister Modi ji's vision to empower the youth. He has time and again emphasized on skill development, Digital India, Make in India and most importantly nurturing an entire ecosystem of startups, so that's why we come in as educational institutions and it is our responsibility to provide that platform to our students wherein they can master their art and can hone their skills. It is events such as these, whether it's debating or a moot court or an MUN, it is events such as these that help the students to sharpen, enhance and showcase critical skills such as critical thinking, communication and most importantly it helps them get ready for the real world challenges. So I think it is very important that events such as these are held at periodic levels because this really helps the students to mold themselves for the future.
- Can you tell us a little bit about the role that the youth have to play, considering India is at very crucial phase, like our Prime Minister has regularly reiterated in his conversations that these are the years that are going to make or shape India's future? So what is the role of youth in the country?
  The role of youth is primary, because it is a youth that is going to be taking the country forward and it is very holistic role. So it's important that as educators, we give them every kind of platform so that they are able to make very certain decisions which can help them empower themselves. So for example the topic of the debate was welfare or freebies. So it's important to make them understand that there are certain choices in life that they will get and to make the right decision I think here we come in and help them mold themselves.
- So the last question to you on the topic of the debate - welfare versus freebies. What is your take on it?
  So I think it is very interesting topic because there is a big gray area when it comes to welfare or freebies. Of course there are different ideas with respect to when we talk about freebies. There is a talk that it helps the underprivileged and there are a lot of advantages, so what I feel that once you are able to understand the gray area and you know the thin-line where we can balance between the two, I think that is the right approach so that the public is more educated and it's not misused by the political parties.
- Your quick comments on "yahi samay hy sahi samay hy" how do you think the slogan fits today's India?
  Yes, I think this is actually the right time because considering the achievement through chandaryaan and that we have landed at the south pole of the moon which has happened first time in the history, so this is the right time for a lot of things and India is escalating, accelerating into new heights. We have just superseded even UK in being one of the largest economies, so I think this is the right time for a lot of things looking forward.