Illustration by SIDDHANT JUMDE

NEED TO KNOW

CHECK ON SALE OF INSURANCE

Complaints about insurance mis-selling come up mostly when a claim is rejected or the policyholder doesn't get what he thinks he bought the policy for

There is a common perception that insurance agents mis-sell insurance policies by not clearly explaining the policy benefits or limitations. Complaints have been rampant since the sector opened up to the private sector over two decades ago. Every once in a few years, numerous forums would take up this issue with the insurance regulator or even the finance ministry. The most recent episode occurred when the secretary, Union ministry of consumer affairs, wrote a letter to the secretary, financial services in the