

Photograph by BANDEEP SINGH

BIGGEST REGRET

I never learnt swimming. I feel bad about it, because I come from an area (north Karnataka) where drinking water was so difficult to get, forget swimming

PROUDEST MOMENT

WHEN I HELPED 3,000 DEVADASIS WHO WERE SEX WORKERS AND REHABILITATED THEM INTO A NORMAL LIFE. THAT WAS MY PROUDEST MOMENT. THAT DAY MY WISH LIST BECAME EMPTY, THAT DAY I SAID 'NOW I CAN CONVERSE WITH GOD SAYING THAT I SERVED YOUR CHILDREN'

BIGGEST REGRET

I DON'T KNOW IF I HAVE ANY REGRETS BECAUSE RIGHT FROM DAY ONE, WE OPERATED INFOSYS AS AN ENLIGHTENED DEMOCRACY. THERE WERE CERTAIN HIGHLY DARING THINGS THAT WE DIDN'T DO. WE COULD HAVE DONE THEM IF WE DIDN'T OPERATE LIKE A TRUE DEMOCRACY. SO, TO SOME EXTENT MAYBE OUR GROWTH WAS SOMEWHAT LESS THAN WHAT WE COULD HAVE ACHIEVED. IT'S NOT A REGRET

PROUDEST MOMENT

When I sat in front of those scorching lights on a high stool at NASDAQ. When we became the first Indian company to be listed on NASDAQ, in many senses we were doing something that had not been done at all by an Indian company