

Photograph by BANDEEP SINGH

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- As the world is changing rapidly, family businesses must also evolve their business models to align with new realities and expectations
- Previously, leadership was more top-down and authoritative. Nowadays, it's about bringing employees together and making them integral to the company's growth narrative

IN INDIA, MOST START-UPS ARE FOUNDED BY FIRST-TIME ENTREPRENEURS WHO HAVE IDENTIFIED A PROBLEM THEY WANT TO SOLVE. THEY ARE LIMITLESS IN THEIR IDEAS, AND HAVE THE POTENTIAL TO CREATE INSANE VALUE. THEREFORE, THE BEST COURSE OF ACTION IS TO SUPPORT THEM

When there are two potential candidates for a job and one of them is female and demonstrates leadership qualities, we always prioritise hiring her lighted the RP-Sanjiv Goenka Group's consumer-first approach—the transitioning of their energy company from thermal to renewable sources. Additionally, the company has expanded its sports venture, acquiring teams such as Lucknow Super Giants, South African Premier League and Mohun Bagan Super Giant. Both the young leaders emphasised the critical role inclusion plays in business and how their firms are making concerted efforts to foster participation of women in their workforce. ■

KESHAV REDDY Founder, Equal