

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- The CAA is "too little compassion coming too late". Those who fell on the "wrong side of the line" during Partition and tried to correct it by returning to India 30-35 years ago are still refugees in this country and have no citizenship rights
- One important step towards Ram Rajya is 'one nation, one poll'. Elections are not a nuisance, but they must not interfere with governance. Till we get to a $10-12 trillion economy, elections should be held only once in eight years
- The nature of this civilisation is to celebrate every small thing and aspect of life. Celebration does not mean eating and drinking; it means joy. If we are not in a mode of celebration, we will naturally move towards depression
