

Dr Raghupati Singhania, chairman & managing director, JK Tyre & Industries presenting the Indian Car of the Year award to Hyundai India's leadership team comprising Tarun Garg, COO, J.T. Park, executive director (sales, marketing & service), Puneet Anand, vice president and head of corporate affairs and corporate communication, Siddhartha P Saikia, head - corporate communications and Soon San Hong, group advisor - corporate affairs

No car maker has taken as many Indian Car of the Year (ICOTY) trophies home as Hyundai Motor India Ltd., having won the award a record seven times. At the 2024 edition of what is widely regarded as the Oscars of the Indian automotive industry, Hyundai drove home with not one, but two trophies with the Hyundai IONIQ 5 claiming the Green Car Award 2024 by ICOTY while the Hyundai EXTER won the Indian Car of the Year 2024 title. Winning these awards is no mean feat as the contenders from across segments compete with each other vying for the votes of 19 jury members representing India's most illustrious publications and media houses. Coming out on top is tough, but if there's any car maker in India that properly knows how to win the hearts of Indian car buyers and critics alike, it's Hyundai.

With the EXTER, Hyundai has once again showcased just how well it understands the needs and wants of the consumer by developing a product that stands head and shoulders above the rest. A fresh take on Hyundai's 'Sensuous Sportiness' design identity, the EXTER grabs eyeballs with its progressive and unique styling, a bold SUV stance and attractively styled elements like the H-shape LED DRLs and tail lamp signatures and parametric design details. Projector headlamps, 15-inch diamond-cut alloy wheels and EXTER branding on the nose help further enhance the sense of premium-ness portrayed by this SUV. Thanks to the Hyundai EXTER's class-leading wheelbase of 2,450mm, the SUV boasts a rather spacious cabin with impressive headroom and leg room, while the generous width enhances the feeling of space. Then there's the massive 391-litre boot that is, once again, best in this segment. The spacious cabin also imparts a very premium feel with leatherette upholstery, a leather-wrapped steering wheel and gear knob along with features like footwell lighting, metal pedals and metal finish door handles. The features list is exhaustive with special attention paid to the needs of new-age customers offering equipment like a sunroof, integrated dashcam, wireless smartphone charger, a digital instrument cluster and an 8-inch HD infotainment touchscreen to name a few. The exciting and efficient 1.2-litre Kappa 4-cylinder petrol engine offered with a choice of manual and automatic transmission options and also available with a CNG option ensures there's something for everyone in the Hyundai EXTER lineup. Safety is at the core of the Indian

A whole host of premium features including segment-firsts like paddle shifters and wireless phone charger are amongst the reasons for the Hyundai EXTER's success

