

ALL FOR JUSTICE
Medics, students and other hospital staff protest at RG Kar hospital, Aug. 12

THE VICTIM

A 31-year-old second-year postgraduate trainee doctor of pulmonary medicine at RGKMCH. The only child of her parents, who lived in Sodepur in Kolkata's outskirts, she completed her MBBS from JNM Medical College and Hospital, Nadia, and aspired to be a gold medallist, as a diary entry reveals.

THE ACCUSED

A civic police volunteer, Sanjay Roy, 33, has multiple allegations of domestic abuse against him but was not a history-sheeter. The police claim he was a regular in Kolkata's red-light district and had reportedly visited at least one brothel before coming to RGKMCH on Aug. 9. Sources also say he was drunk that night.

THE PRINCIPAL

A Bangaon native, Dr Sandip Ghosh, 54, is an RGKMCH alumnus. He was vice-principal of Calcutta National Medical College before becoming RGKMCH principal in 2021. Sent back to CNMC as principal after the incident. Allegations of financial irregularities have followed him wherever he's served.
