in this case he can get 3 years of imprisonment. There is a provision of at least 5 lakh rupees as penalty in such cases. On the other hand if the applicant is found second time guilty of copying in any other competitive exams then he can get 10 years of imprisonment and there is a provision of at least 10 lakh rupees as penalty.

If any person, printing press, service provider institute, Management or coaching institute is found involved in unfair means including the leak of examination papers then concerned persons can get lifetime imprisonment and the penalty would increase to 10 crore rupees.

SPECIAL FOCUS ON RECRUITMENT EXAMS

By passing this most stringent law, the state government has given clear indication to those who are involved in paper leak to stay away from the recruitment exams. It is very clear in this law that if any applicant is found using unfair means or copying then he or she will be banned from appearing in all recruitment examinations for next 2 to 5 years from the date of filing the charge sheet. If the person is found guilty than he or she will be banned for next 10 years for appearing in all kind of examinations. After being cought second time, the applicant will be suspended for 5 to 10 years from the date of filing charge sheet. And if that person is found guilty then he will not be permitted to appear in any recruitment examination during his lifetime.

GOVERNMENT ASSURED THE STUDENTS

The unemployed youth of the state were agitated after the incidents of paper leak in some recent examinations. Government has assured youth that in all such cases there will be independent enquiry and after the passing of such stringent anti copying law, there will be no room for any paper leak or use of unfair means in examinations.

Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami has said that this anti copying law will be implemented in all the coming recruitment examinations in Uttarakhand. Government is planning to take action against the Nakal Mafia with the provisions of this anti copying law.

He said that all those examinations where information of irregularities were found have been cancelled. New Schedule have been announced. Uttrakhand State transport buses will ply free of cost to the applicants and there will be no charge of examination form. He said that government is in favor of the students.

Government has also decided to set up an special investigation team under the headship of judge of high court to investigate the patwari recruitment paper leak.

> We have brought in the most stringent anti copying law of the country, which will help us in eradicating the roots of Nakal Mafia in the state. Our government is committed for the secure future of the youth.
>
> — Pushkar Singh Dhami
> Chief Minister, Uttarakhand

FULFILLED THE PROMISE GIVEN TO YOUTH

After the passing of this anti-copying law, Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami said that according to the promises given to the youth of the state his government has decided to bring the most stringent anti-copying law of the country. He further added that his government will not allow the Nakal Mafia to play with the future of the youth of state. Keeping in mind the benefit of youth his government is hell bent to remove the Nakal Mafia from the state. Definitely this historic law which is dedicated to the youth of the state will play important role in neutralizing the system of nakal Mafia in state.

A MOVE WELCOMED BY THE YOUTH OF STATE

State government is getting appreciations from every quarter for bringing in the most stringent anti-copying law of the country. Particularly the youth of the state has got excited and hopeful that the nexus of those who leak the papers will end with the help of this law and also the whole recruitment process will become transparent. The youth of the whole state is now hopeful about their future. At many places across the state, the youth gathered in large numbers to congratulate Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami through the facilitation programs.

In his constituency in Champawat district Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami was given warm welcome through aabhar rally organised by the youth of the region. On this occasion Chief Minister reiterated that his government is committed for the benefit of youth. Along with Champawat, many felicitation programs and aabhar rallies were organised in different districts including Dehradun and Tehri by the youth and the students preparing for competitive exams to say thanks to Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami.

