

COIMBATORE'S

Multi-Sectoral Evolution

Embracing Modernisation and Growth

As a hotbed of innovation, Coimbatore's growth engine is driven by its visionary entrepreneurs. From PSG to Sri Krishna Sweets to The Chennai Silks and, in the corporate sector, from LMW to PRICOL and ELGI, to name just a few, Coimbatore deserves its title of 'self-made city'. From textile to real estate, machine tools, auto parts, jewellery, foundry and now, Coimbatore's reputation as an industry pivot has earned it huge investments especially in manufacturing and real estate, not to mention global recognition.

GOVERNMENT AS CATALYST

The Tamil Nadu Government has played a pivotal role in the development of Coimbatore through TN Guidance. The nodal agency for the Government has been extremely supportive of Coimbatore's growth, providing single-window clearance for a slew of projects. Also, several important announcements in the last State budget specifically for Coimbatore will give the city's development a major boost. This includes the setting up of a new IT Park at a cost of Rs 1,100 crore, as well as a state-of-the-art library and science centre. There are also plans to develop the district as a GCC hub.

TN Guidance is actively working to develop Coimbatore into a prominent investment destination. Initiatives include promotion of industrial growth, leveraging Coimbatore's existing strengths in textiles, manufacturing, and engineering. By highlighting the city's industrial capabilities, TN Guidance is attracting both domestic and international investors. Special emphasis has been placed on sectors such as automotive components, IT, and healthcare, which are areas where Coimbatore already has a strong presence.

Apart from that, the TN Government is focussing on areas like infrastructure development and connectivity. Significant projects include the expansion of Coimbatore International Airport, enhancing railway connectivity, and developing new highways and bypasses to reduce congestion and improve transportation efficiency.
