DRAMA BY DESIGN

When ebony meets ivory magic follows. We explore the nuances of the timeless combination of black and white.

By JASON WADHWANI

In the world of interior design, the marriage of black and white is not merely a colour choice; it embodies timelessness and sophistication. Finding the right balance between these two contrasting colours is important to make a room look beautiful and balanced. The art lies not just in the juxtaposition of these hues, but also in the delicate balance struck between them.

