OLD IS GOLD

Retelling a timeless tale between art, heritage, furniture and passion, Circa is a sanctuary for those who appreciate timeless beauty. The brand began in 1959 in Nairobi, when Hans Raj Suri, enthralled by the appreciation of Indian art in the Occident, embarked on a mission to share the richness of Indian culture with the world. Today, his legacy lives on through his grandchildren, Savita and Mayank, who passionately continue the tradition of preserving and celebrating heritage. The brand breathes new life into once-loved artefacts, carefully curating paintings, drawings, sculptures, period furniture, and more.

DOUBLE WHAMMY

What happens when two creative forces collide? Magic. Jaipur Rugs and designer Kunaal Kyhaan Seolekar have unveiled the Jaanwar Collection that taps into tribal beauty and artistry. This range also moves away from regular rectangular carpet forms and celebrates the untamed beauty of ancient Indian culture, tribal communities, and wild animals. Inspired by tribal art, especially Central India's Gond Art, these rugs weave tales within intricate patterns, incorporating illusions and movement.
