The brand founded in 2010, by Dr Shashi Kant Baliyan, MD and Founder, now being led by healthcare management leader, Commander Navneet Bali, who is strategizing into building this Indian brand to reach the untouched of the society.

It dates to 2010, when Dr Baliyan on his regular visit to his hometown in Sonipat, Haryana came across the fact the entire state did not have a single LINAC. Patients were travelling miles to access radiation therapy. It was this realisation which became the starting point of healthcare revolution in India and establishment of ClearMedi Healthcare.

As an emerging healthcare leader, we are proponents of regular health checkups with a focus on early cancer detection. With all our centres we are conducting structured health checkups and awareness camps which includes basic tests like RBS, BP, height and weight, this has enabled us to cover a wide population who were until then unaware of the alarming vital signs, which inturn has allowed them to access clinical care at right time before the adversities would have come in. In the regular awareness talks being done regularly in remote locations, talks about importance on timely HPV vaccinations for young girls as they enter adolescence, seriousness of PSA testing for men above 40 years of age, awareness about self-examination for early signs of breast cancer.

Bottomline of being the healthcare providers is to be empathetic towards patients and their families. The entire team of ClearMedi Healthcare brings top class clinicians backed by latest technology to bring world class cancer care to those who require it.
